

Pixel icon reference – 83 glyphs

From pixelarticons (MIT, Gerrit Halfmann). Drawn on a 24×24 grid; ours is 16×16, so nothing here drops in – it is here to draw against. Each glyph is shown at 6× over its pixel grid, with the real 24px beside the name.

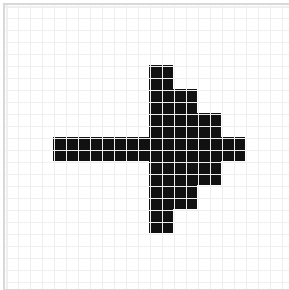

The set's own spacing rule, measured across these 83 glyphs – the median inset from each edge. Holding one rule like this is most of what makes separately drawn glyphs read as one family:

Left	Right	Top	Bottom
2px	2px	2px	2px
